Piet Boon

SERAX

With Shapes, Studio Piet Boon created 3 beautiful and serene vases, fully mouth-blown. Objects that have an aesthetic added value yet do not demand too much attention when filled with flowers. Japanese design and nature served as sources of inspiration.

The 3 timeless shapes are very related to one another, but when taking a second look, you see the difference in the details. Each vase is slightly different curved to enable different and easy flower arrangements. Thanks to the organic profile, the light always reflects differently on the sandblasted glass, creating a beautiful shadow play between light absorption and light reflection. By the way, blowing this shape is quite a tour de force, which can only be successfully completed by very experienced glass-blowers.

PIET BOON

After his studies at the technical school in Amsterdam, Piet Boon began his career as a building contractor, but he would soon evolve into a high-profile Dutch designer. Today, Studio Piet Boon is an internationally operating total concept design company, where a team of architects, stylists and design professionals is continuously driven to exceed expectations, to stay true to the studio's reputation as the most renowned Dutch design studio in the world.
